VAUGHN SOLOMON SCHOFIELD
Lieutenant Governor

CANADA

PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN

ELIZABETH THE SECOND, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom, Canada, and Her other Realms and Territories QUEEN, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith.

To all whom these Presents shall come, GREETING:

A PROCLAMATION

TO OUR FAITHFUL MEMBERS elected to serve in the Legislative Assembly by our province of Saskatchewan and to every one of you GREETING:

WHEREAS it is expedient for causes and considerations to convene the Second Session of the Twenty-eighth Legislative Assembly of our province of Saskatchewan.

WE DO WILL that you and each of you and all others in this behalf interested on WEDNESDAY the TWENTY-FIFTH day of OCTOBER, 2017, at 2:00 p.m. at our city of Regina, personally be and appear for the DESPATCH OF BUSINESS, there to take into consideration the state and welfare of our said province of Saskatchewan and thereby to do as may seem necessary, HEREIN FAIL NOT.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF we have caused the Great Seal of our province of Saskatchewan to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS: Our right trusty and well beloved Honourable Vaughn Solomon Schofield, Lieutenant Governor of our province of Saskatchewan.

AT OUR CAPITAL CITY OF REGINA, in our said province, this SECOND day of NOVEMBER in the year of our Lord TWO THOUSAND and SEVENTEEN and in the SIXTY-SIXTH year of our reign.

By Command,
J. Glen Gardner Q.C.

Second Session

Twenty-Eighth Legislative Assembly

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 2017
(1ST DAY)

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Her Honour the Lieutenant Governor opened the session with the following speech:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislative Assembly, honoured guests, people of Saskatchewan, welcome to the opening of the second session of the twenty-eighth legislature of the province of Saskatchewan.

We meet during the season of prairie fellowship. Harvest is nearly completed and people are gathering in town halls, church basements and schools across the province. It is a time of community, and a time to give thanks for the blessings of Saskatchewan.

Ten years ago this month, a journalist acknowledged our good fortune in a beautifully written Thanksgiving column in the pages of the Regina Leader Post. “Let it be known that I am grateful,” wrote the late Ron Petrie. “Grateful to be where I am, for starters. As a younger man, brash and full of swagger, I considered my calling to be Vancouver, Montreal, even New York. Only now do I appreciate that what I actually fancied was merely the ideal of my farm boy self, destined for the big city...where I am is Saskatchewan. Thank goodness.” Ten years on, there is even more reason to be thankful we call Saskatchewan home.

Saskatchewan has enjoyed a decade of growth. Our population is growing faster than it has since the earliest days of our province. During our decade of growth, Saskatchewan has grown by more than 160,000 people, reversing the decline of the previous two decades. During our decade of growth, Saskatchewan recorded the second best job creation record, and had the second highest growth in average weekly incomes.

We led the nation in retail sales and manufacturing sales growth, and our exporters set new records, with agriculture leading the way. Our farmers are the best in the world at what they do, and they have taken off another good crop, despite the challenges posed by nature. Saskatchewan people are responsible for the progress of the past decade, and my government is committed to ensuring this growth continues.

The Saskatchewan Plan for Growth focuses on international engagement, innovation, fiscal responsibility, and investments in infrastructure and education and training. My government remains committed to the principles of the Growth Plan at a time when there is much cause for optimism.

Our economy is expected to grow by 2.1 per cent this year, higher than originally forecast. Government debt is $400 million lower than forecast at budget time. Today, Saskatchewan's operating debt is more than $1 billion lower than it was in 2007. And last month, Moody's confirmed the province's triple A credit rating — the highest rating possible — citing my government's strong fiscal management and its three-year plan to balance the budget and reduce the province's dependency on resource revenues. With our economy growing stronger, we are better able to sustain quality of life in Saskatchewan.

HEALTH CARE

A growing economy has enabled my government to greatly improve health care services during our decade of growth. Since 2007, we have recruited more than 750 new doctors and 3,400 nurses of every designation. Thirteen new long-term care facilities have opened, and new hospitals have been built or are under construction, including the Jim Pattison Children's Hospital in Saskatoon and the new Saskatchewan Hospital in North Battleford.

The number of people waiting more than a year for surgery is down by 80 per cent since 2007, while people waiting more than three months for surgery has been reduced by 45 per cent. Saskatchewan has gone from having the longest surgical wait times in Canada a decade ago to having among the shortest wait times today.

My government's innovative two-for-one approach to increasing access to diagnostic imaging is helping patients get care sooner. Since March 31, 2016, 905 people have purchased an MRI with a corresponding number being provided at no cost to the health care system. That means more than 1,800 scans have been provided with no added expense for taxpayers. Despite this progress, my government understands there is more work to do in health care.

This year, accountable care units were established at Pasqua Hospital in Regina and St. Paul's Hospital in Saskatoon as part of an effort to improve service. Accountable care units create a unique team environment, with physicians, nurses, occupational and physical therapists, social workers, and dietitians working closely together to provide prompt, effective care for patients. In the coming year, more accountable care units will be created in Regina and Saskatoon.

This year, my government accepted recommendations made by an advisory panel that examined the administrative structure governing health care in Saskatchewan. The panel recommended the consolidation of the province's 12 regional health authorities into a single Saskatchewan health authority. The Saskatchewan Health Authority will begin operations in December. Over time, the authority will further reduce administrative costs while improving the coordination of care and enhancing the accountability of our health care system.

Saskatchewan's rate of organ donations is low compared to the rest of Canada and many other countries. Last year, my government asked the legislature's standing committee on Human Services to review the province's current organ donation approach and recommend ways to increase the rate of donations. During this session, my government will implement a new organ donation program, building on work undertaken by the standing committee. The program will be led by donor physicians who will provide education and support to fellow health care providers and champion organ donations across the province.

My government will also expand the pool of donors by amending regulations to allow for a donation after cardio-circulatory death and by implementing a mandatory referral program. In addition, we will continue to explore the option of moving to a presumed consent model of organ donation.

This session, my government will fulfill its commitment to provide individualized funding for children under the age of six diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder, or ASD. The initial funding level will be $4,000 per year for each child, for a total investment of approximately $2.8 million next fiscal year. This funding is in addition to the nearly $8 million my government already provides to support ASD services within the health care system.

EDUCATION

The first week of September was special for thousands of Saskatchewan schoolchildren and their families. This year, 21 new schools, accommodating more than 11,000 students, opened their doors for the first time. Eighteen of those schools are joint-use facilities built using a P3 — or public-private partnership model — that reduced construction costs by $100 million. Those schools are located on nine sites in Regina, Saskatoon, Warman, and Martensville, and were completed in less than two years.

Altogether, my government has constructed or renovated 65 schools during the last decade, including several new community schools. In Regina alone, the new École Connaught Community School and a new Sacred Heart Community School opened, along with māmawêyatitân centre, a unique integrated facility that includes a new Scott Collegiate, a recreational complex, a public library branch, a community police station, and a First Nations Elders' ceremonial room.

My government's unprecedented $17 billion investment in kindergarten to grade 12 education over the past decade has also paid for 875 more teachers and the creation of nearly 6,000 new child care spaces. My government believes parents and students should have the right to choose the schools that work best for them.

Earlier this year, a court decision put that right in jeopardy by ruling the government must cease funding for non-minority faith students who attend separate schools. During the session, we will introduce legislation that will protect the right to school choice by invoking the notwithstanding clause of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. My government has taken action to improve the learning experience in Saskatchewan classrooms.

We have worked with school divisions and teachers on the province's first Education Sector Strategic Plan, which has led to higher graduation rates and more students reading at grade level. My government has collaborated with Indigenous leaders to develop programs to assist First Nations and Métis students, such as Help Me Tell My Story and Following Their Voices.

In the coming year, my government will continue its efforts to improve education for all Saskatchewan children. A pause on curriculum development has been lifted and curriculum renewal will continue in a number of subject areas. My government continues to hear concerns from parents about their children's proficiency in mathematics. We are also monitoring the math scores of Saskatchewan students in international tests, and they are disappointingly low.

To improve math scores and ensure all Saskatchewan students are well-schooled in the basics of math, my government will expand math reinforcement and supports, broadening access to common-sense methods that have been proven successful in the past and in other jurisdictions. New international models will also be explored.

Saskatchewan, like other provinces, is having difficulty recruiting and retaining teachers and early childhood educators in French and French immersion. In the coming year, my government will work with other provinces, including Quebec, to build partnerships that will lead to higher quality French and French second-language instruction for our students. We will also begin the development of a computer coding curriculum to help prepare students for careers in science, mathematics, engineering, and technology. My government is committed to ensuring post-secondary education in Saskatchewan remains accessible and affordable.

Since 2008, we have provided $8.3 billion to support post-secondary education, including nearly $1 billion in direct support for students. This includes the Graduate Retention Program, the most aggressive student attraction and retention program in Canada. Since 2008, nearly 70,000 students have taken advantage of the Graduate Retention Program, receiving about $345 million in tax credits. That's 70,000 post-secondary graduates who have chosen to begin their careers right here in Saskatchewan.

My government also provides direct financial support to students through the Saskatchewan Advantage Scholarship, which offers all Saskatchewan Grade 12 graduates up to $500 a year to help cover tuition costs to a maximum of $2,000. Since 2012, more than 38,000 students have received over $33 million through the program.

Expanding access to post-secondary education for First Nations and Métis people is a priority for my government. During the last decade, the number of First Nations and Métis students enrolled at post-secondary institutions in Saskatchewan has jumped from 12,186 to 16,357, an increase of 34 per cent. Last year, 854 First Nations and Métis students graduated from Saskatchewan Polytechnic, up 138 or nearly 20 per cent from the previous year. This year, my government will allocate nearly $45 million to support post-secondary programs and skills training and employment initiatives for Indigenous students. This includes $9.4 million provided to the Saskatchewan Indian Institute of Technologies, which has received a 114 per cent increase in funding from the province since 2007.

PROTECTING COMMUNITIES

Earlier this year, the federal government announced its intention to legalize the non-medical use of marijuana by July, 2018. This decision has far-reaching consequences and was made without adequate consultation with the provinces. In July, Canada's premiers raised concerns about the feasibility of the federal government's implementation date, noting that more time may be needed to address important concerns like safety, distribution, taxation, and public education. Despite these concerns, the federal government has not changed its timetable. Therefore, my government has no choice but to prepare for this historic revision to the Criminal Code.

My government is in the midst of a review process that includes an online public consultation that received nearly 35,000 responses. This review is guided by four objectives: preventing the growth of the underground marijuana market; restricting access to minors; ensuring road and workplace safety; and protecting public health. Once the review is completed this fall, my government will introduce legislation that will govern the sale and distribution of marijuana and outline measures to protect public health and safety and enhance public education.

Saskatchewan has the highest rate of impaired driving among the provinces. During the last decade, more than 600 people have been killed, and more than 4,000 people injured in accidents involving drivers impaired by alcohol. In the past year, my government has introduced a number of measures to address a preventable tragedy that has shattered so many lives.

These actions include:

- Increasing the age at which drivers are prohibited from having any drugs or alcohol in their bloodstream from 19 and under to 21 and under;
- Introducing a three day vehicle seizure for drivers over the age of 21 who are found to have blood alcohol levels between .04 and .08 for the first time; and
- Making Saskatchewan's ignition interlock laws the toughest in Canada.

But additional steps can be taken to reduce impaired driving. Any time an individual makes the terrible decision to drive while impaired, there is always a better option. My government will work to create one additional better option. We will be urging municipalities to allow ride sharing services to operate within their jurisdiction. My government will also introduce legislation enabling SGI to offer affordable insurance to drivers working for ride sourcing companies like Uber and Lyft. And we will work with smaller communities to attract or establish a ride sourcing network so people have another option for a safe ride home.

My government has heard that more must be done to prevent crime in rural Saskatchewan. To address these concerns, we appointed a committee of government MLAs to consult on measures that might strengthen public safety. Acting on the committee's recommendations, my government has created a new Protection and Response Team (PRT), consisting of 258 armed officers who have the authority to arrest and detain those suspected of committing crimes.

The PRT is composed of:

- 120 police officers from the RCMP and municipal police services;
- 40 commercial vehicle enforcement officers, who have been given expanded powers; and
- 98 conservation officers.

The Protection and Response Team will improve response times to emergency calls and increase the visibility of uniformed officers in rural Saskatchewan. My government has committed nearly $6 million to support the PRT and other initiatives arising from the committee's report.

During this session, my government will take further action to protect Saskatchewan citizens. Cyberbullying through the unauthorized sharing of intimate images is a despicable crime, one that most often victimizes young people. But it has proven difficult to rely on the Criminal Code to deter this crime because the burden of proof — beyond a reasonable doubt — is so high.

My government will amend The Privacy Act to allow the victims of the unauthorized distribution of intimate images to sue for compensation in a civil action. The amendments will also create a reverse onus requiring the defendant to prove the plaintiff consented to the release of the images in question. In addition, my government will remove the requirement that an action of this type be commenced in the Court of Queen's Bench.

Once The Privacy Act is amended, the victims of "revenge porn" or "sexting" can seek redress through Small Claims Court, which will be less costly for them. In Saskatchewan, most renters and landlords have a respectful relationship. But there are exceptions where one party fails to meet their obligations to the other.

This session, my government will look at creating a process to improve the disclosure of decisions made by the Office of Residential Tenancies. This will assist in ensuring problem landlords and problem tenants can be readily identified in the marketplace. In July, amendments to The Victims of Interpersonal Violence Act and The Residential Tenancies Act came into force. The new provisions permit victims of domestic violence to obtain a certificate allowing them to end a fixed-term lease of residential premises, without penalty, if they are in danger.

INFRASTRUCTURE

Trade-dependent jurisdictions like Saskatchewan require modern and well-maintained infrastructure to ensure they can compete and prosper. During the last decade, my government has invested more than $26 billion to renew and expand Saskatchewan's infrastructure. Of that total, $7.4 billion has been committed to the province's highway system.

This record investment has resulted in the repair and improvement of 12,000 kilometres of highway and the completion of significant projects, such as Saskatoon's Circle Drive South Bridge, the St. Louis Bridge, the twinning of Highway 11, and passing lanes on Highway 7, and Highway 10. This year, work continues on the Regina Bypass, overpasses at Martensville and Warman, the Saskatoon North Commuter Parkway Bridge, twinning projects on Highways 39, 16 and 7, and passing lanes on Highway 5, among many other projects.

CROWN CORPORATIONS

Our Crown corporations support economic growth and quality of life in Saskatchewan. Last session, my government passed Bill 40, legislation that would allow for the sale of up to 49 per cent of a Crown corporation. This legislation would have enabled a Crown corporation to enter into a partnership beneficial to the province, while ensuring the government remained the majority owner of that corporation.

Over the last few months, my government has heard from many Saskatchewan people concerned about this legislation and the potential sale of even a small stake in a Crown corporation. Consequently, my government will repeal the provisions of Bill 40 that allow for the sale of a partial equity position of a Crown corporation. In the year ahead, our Crown corporations will continue to invest in Saskatchewan.

Demand for electricity has grown by 25 per cent since 2007, and is expected to increase by another 13 per cent by 2025. SaskPower has responded by investing nearly $8 billion during the last decade to meet increased demand and to restore and replace aging infrastructure. This year, the company expects to allocate another $1.1 billion on capital projects.

Since 2008, SaskTel has invested more than $2.6 billion to improve telephone and internet service in the province. But we have heard from the people of Saskatchewan that cellular and internet service must be further improved. Too many rural areas still have poor cellular coverage and slow internet service. This year, SaskTel will spend $300 million to expand and enhance its network, with a total of $1.1 billion expected to be invested in the next four years. My government's goal is to ensure that Saskatchewan is the best province in Canada in terms of cellular and internet coverage.

My government's plan to create a more open, competitive, and customer friendly liquor retailing system is moving forward. To date, Saskatchewan Liquor and Gaming Authority stores in 24 locations have been converted and new private operators are providing retail liquor service in those communities. This includes five communities where the new private ownership is made up either partially or entirely of former employees, with one more employee-owned store scheduled to open this fall. In addition, there are new private retailers open in Aberdeen, Pilot Butte, Osler, and Hague — communities where there was no government liquor store operating before. An expanded private retail liquor system is expected to be completed by May 2018.

ENSURING PROSPERITY AND COMPETITIVENESS

International engagement is a priority for my government because trade drives Saskatchewan's economy. More than 100,000 jobs in our province depend on exports. During our decade of growth, Saskatchewan exports to emerging markets, particularly in Asia, have grown by staggering amounts.

Saskatchewan's exports to China have increased 530 per cent over the past decade to $3 billion last year. Exports to India are up 272 per cent to $1.5 billion; exports to Pakistan are up 293 per cent to $548 million; and exports to Indonesia are up 132 per cent to $543 million. My government will continue working to expand our export markets through further trade missions to these and other countries and through support for trade-focused organizations like the Saskatchewan Trade and Export Partnership.

As negotiations on a new North American Free Trade Agreement proceed, we will join with others in Canada in reminding our trading partners about the benefits of free trade and the dangers of protectionism. My government will also continue to advocate for freer trade within Canada. Saskatchewan stands to benefit from the new Canadian Free Trade Agreement (CFTA), which came into force on July 1. The CFTA will reduce barriers to trade, investment and the mobility of workers. However, we are concerned other provincial governments do not share Saskatchewan's commitment to free trade.

An impartial trade panel has ruled Alberta's rebate program for small brewers discriminates against brewers in Saskatchewan. The panel also determined the rebate program is not in accordance with Alberta's trade obligations to other provinces. Alberta is appealing the ruling. My government is considering a range of retaliatory measures in response to Alberta's unfair trade practices. This year, capital investment in Saskatchewan is forecast to be $14.5 billion. While this is down from a few years ago, it is still 43 per cent higher than capital investment in 2007. Saskatchewan's favourable business climate has played a major role in attracting investment.

In the last provincial budget, my government increased and broadened the provincial sales tax to reduce our dependency on resource revenues. But even with those changes, Saskatchewan has the lowest provincial sales tax among provinces with a PST. We have reduced income taxes for all citizens. Saskatchewan's manufacturing and processing tax is the lowest in Canada. Competitive taxes and sensible regulations helped build the Saskatchewan advantage, and my government will do everything it can to defend the Saskatchewan advantage. In the spring budget, my government committed to keeping Saskatchewan competitive with our neighbouring provinces by moving to the lowest corporate tax rate in western Canada, matching British Columbia's rate of 11 per cent.

Since then, two things have changed. First, the BC government has announced it will raise its corporate tax rate to 12 per cent — the same as Alberta and Manitoba. And second, the federal government introduced tax changes that could have had a significant negative impact on Canadian small businesses.

While we are pleased the federal government has backed down on most of its proposed tax changes that would have hurt small businesses, my government has decided to refocus its business tax reduction plan on Saskatchewan small businesses. Effective January 1, 2018, we will raise the small business income threshold from $500,000 to $600,000 — the highest threshold in Canada. This is the amount of income up to which small businesses pay tax at the significantly lower two per cent small business tax rate.

We will also return the corporate tax rate to 12 per cent — the same as the other western provinces. My government is monitoring developments in the potash industry, particularly the merger of PotashCorp and Agrium into a new company called Nutrien. My government's priority is to ensure Nutrien's continued head office presence in Saskatoon and increased employment in Saskatchewan as the merger moves forward and market conditions improve.

My government will continue to lead the national discussion on competitiveness in the resource sector. With multi-layered reviews and climate change initiatives being advanced by the federal government, there is a high level of uncertainty in energy and mining. Our energy sector is one of Canada's greatest strengths, yet its economic potential is being hamstrung by our own national government, even as Canada continues to import thousands of barrels of oil every day from other countries.

In the past year, energy projects worth more than $56 billion have been abandoned, including the Energy East pipeline, which would have moved Saskatchewan oil to tidewater, enabling our province to get full value for the oil it produces.

My government will continue to call for transparent, predictable and timely approval processes for resource companies. This fiscal year, my government will introduce a new targeted Mineral Development Strategy. The strategy will include a mineral exploration incentive to cover a portion of the costs associated with ground-based exploration activities.

AGRICULTURE

Thanks to the efforts of our farmers, ranchers, researchers and processors, agriculture remains a pillar of our economy. In 2016, Saskatchewan shipped $14.4 billion worth of agricultural products — more than half of all exports. And we are on track for another strong year of agricultural exports.

In the coming year, my government will continue to provide strong support to farmers, ranchers, and agribusinesses. We will stand up for our agricultural sector in opposing a federal carbon tax and federal small business tax changes that will hit farmers and ranchers hard. We will work to expand access to important markets across the globe.

We will continue to invest in research through the Agricultural Development Fund, the Global Institute for Food Security and the Livestock and Forage Centre of Excellence at the University of Saskatchewan. Our support extends to Saskatchewan's value-added food processing industry, which has grown tremendously through the years. There are now more than 300 food companies operating in the province generating more than $4 billion in revenues and employing 5,000 people. To build on this momentum, my government will launch an agriculture value added new growth incentive intended to attract more investment into the sector.

ENVIRONMENT

My government recognizes that climate change is a reality. We must do more to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. In Saskatchewan, important steps have already been taken by my government. SaskPower is expanding renewable power to as much as 50 per cent of its total generating capacity by 2030. This represents a doubling of renewable generation in less than 15 years. The expansion of renewable power will help SaskPower cut its current greenhouse gas emissions by 44 per cent by 2030.

We have invested $1.3 billion in the world's first commercial power plant equipped with a post-combustion carbon capture system. SaskPower's Boundary Dam 3 project has cut Saskatchewan's carbon dioxide emissions by 1.6 million tonnes, the equivalent of taking 400,000 cars off our roads. Today, our province is a world leader in the advancement of carbon capture and storage technology, which has been identified by the United Nations and the International Energy Agency as a crucial technology if global emissions are to be reduced.

Saskatchewan contributes in other ways. In 2015, our farmers sequestered nearly 12 million tonnes of carbon in our soil in large part thanks to zero till seeding technology developed in our province. Increasing production of pulse crops like lentils and peas, which fix nitrogen in the soil, is helping to reduce emissions. Uranium mined in Saskatchewan is used to generate emission-free electricity around the world. Meanwhile, the companies operating in our energy and mining sectors are investing in the latest technologies to reduce their environmental footprint. Those companies provide good jobs that support thousands of Saskatchewan families.

The federal government's carbon tax will put those jobs in jeopardy and threaten Saskatchewan's competitive position, while having no significant impact on emissions. This session, my government will introduce further actions that actually reduce emissions while we continue to oppose the imposition of a federal carbon tax on Saskatchewan, including through a legal challenge if necessary.

PARKS AND CULTURE

Saskatchewan's 35 provincial parks are the natural jewels of our province, offering breath-taking beauty and a diversity of recreational opportunities. During the last decade, my government has invested $100 million to maintain and upgrade facilities in provincial parks, more than double the amount invested in the decade prior to 2007.

Saskatchewan residents and those from outside the province have responded by visiting in record numbers. Since 2007, higher attendance at provincial parks has helped boost total tourist visits from 8.46 million to 12.24 million, a 45 per cent increase. Total visitor expenditures have grown by nearly 35 per cent to $2.15 billion a year.

This session, my government will continue to invest in our provincial park system with the creation of a new park in the Porcupine Hills, located southeast of Hudson Bay. This is the second new provincial park created in the last five years. My government continues to support arts, culture, and sports throughout Saskatchewan.

This year, Creative Saskatchewan will allocate nearly $5.3 million in grants to support our province's creative entrepreneurs, who work in a variety of sectors, including film, television, interactive digital media, music, publishing, visual arts, and the performing arts. Creative Saskatchewan will also provide $1.5 million to support operations and programs at Saskatchewan's seven creative industry associations. My government continues to explore innovative ways to support Saskatchewan's creative industries with new grant programs announced this past summer.

SOCIAL SERVICES

My government believes growth is not only an economic necessity, but a moral imperative as well. Growth gives us the opportunity to improve the quality of life for all Saskatchewan people and build a fairer, more tolerant province. Growth enables us to help those who are most vulnerable among us. Because of the economic progress of the last decade, my government was in the position to invest $3.7 billion to support people with disabilities.

In 2009, we created the Saskatchewan Assured Income for Disability (SAID) program, and since then we have increased benefits paid to recipients of the program four times. My government supports more than 4,000 individuals and families with respite, residential and day programming services. And over the past decade, we have more than doubled support for crisis prevention and outreach support services, and nearly doubled the number of group homes in Saskatchewan.

There are 96 group homes operating in Saskatchewan today that did not exist a decade ago. Helping seniors in Saskatchewan is also a priority for my government. In 2012, we created the Personal Care Home benefit to support seniors residing in personal care homes. Since 2008, my government has tripled the Seniors Income Plan benefit from $90 per month to $270 per month. In the coming months, my government will introduce the Seniors Education Property Tax Deferral Program. This program will give seniors with household incomes under $70,000 the option to defer the education portion of the property taxes on their home. These measures, together with tax reductions which have saved a couple with an income of $50,000 more than $13,000, will put more money in the pockets of seniors.

CONCLUSION

So much has changed in Saskatchewan during the past decade of growth, and today, my government is making the decisions necessary to ensure Saskatchewan keeps growing stronger in the decade ahead. Saskatchewan is truly blessed, and there is so much to be thankful for. "Where I am is Saskatchewan. Thank goodness."

May divine providence continue to bless our province and guide this Assembly in all its deliberations.

God bless Saskatchewan. God bless Canada. God save the Queen.

Her Honour then retired from the Chamber.

Ordered, That the name of Jeremy Harrison be substituted for the name of Paul Merriman on the Standing Committee on House Services.

MOTION FOR AN ADDRESS IN REPLY

The order of the day having been called for consideration of the speech of Her Honour at the opening of the session, Ms. Carr, seconded by Mr. Nerlien, moved:

That an Humble Address be presented to Her Honour the Lieutenant Governor as follows:

TO HER HONOUR THE HONOURABLE VAUGHN SOLOMON SCHOFIELD
Lieutenant Governor of the province of Saskatchewan

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR:

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the province of Saskatchewan, in session assembled, humbly thank Your Honour for the gracious speech which Your Honour has been pleased to address to us at the opening of the present session.

A debate arising, it was moved by Ms. Sproule, seconded by Ms. Mowat:

That the motion be amended by adding the following:

And, That this Assembly does not support the Sask Party's unambitious agenda that ignores the realities faced by Saskatchewan families and focuses on backtracking, bravado and revisionist history, instead of creating jobs, strengthening the North and rural Saskatchewan, making life more affordable, or investing in our kids classrooms, health care and supports for seniors and our most vulnerable.

The debate continuing on the motion and the amendment, pursuant to rule 6(7), the Deputy Speaker adjourned the Assembly.

PRAYERS

PRESENTING PETITIONS

Petitions of citizens of the province of Saskatchewan were presented and laid upon the Table by the following members: Harrison, Chartier, Sproule, Forbes, Mowat, Beck, and Belanger.

READING AND RECEIVING PETITIONS

According to order and pursuant to rule 16(7), petitions from residents of the province of Saskatchewan, requesting the following action, were read and received:

- To provide main street access to Highway 1 in Balgonie.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 16)
- To stop the federal government from imposing a carbon tax on the province.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 17)
- To reopen the Buffalo Narrows correctional center.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 19)
- To restore funding to post-secondary institutions.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 26)

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Reflecting on absence of another member)

Yesterday, a point of order was raised by the Deputy Opposition House Leader (Ms. Beck) concerning the member's statement by the Member for Indian Head-Milestone (Mr. McMorris). She alleged that the Member for Indian Head-Milestone contravened rule 51 (b) which states that a member shall not reflect on the absence of another member.

I have reviewed the record. On page 2822 of Hansard the Member for Indian Head-Milestone stated, and I quote, "... it wasn't too many years ago that the Leader Post and many other papers around the province read, 'Doctor shortage on the rise.' In fact, doctor shortage even today in the House, I see again."

In response to the point of order, the Deputy Government House Leader (Mr. Harrison) said that the Member for Indian Head-Milestone did not specifically "reflect on" the absence of the Member for Saskatoon Meewasin (Mr. Meili). He stated, and I quote, "... the operative provision being 'reflect' was not met."

The purpose of this rule is to prohibit members from expressing opinions or observations why a member is absent from the Assembly. The Member for Indian Head-Milestone did not specifically mention a particular member's absence but his choice of words and actions did convey a message that came close to doing indirectly what cannot be done directly. For this reason I caution the member.

I thank the Deputy Government House Leader for the respect for this institution and his apology earlier today. I ask all members to be true parliamentarians. We will be having better decorum today in the Assembly.

MOTION MOVED BY UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Leave of the Assembly having been granted, pursuant to rule 61, it was moved by Ms. Sarauer:

That this Assembly, in response to the announced suspension of operations at Cameco McArthur River mining and Key Lake milling operations, take immediate action to support the families of the more than 800 workers who have lost their jobs as well and the hundreds more and entire communities that will feel the impact of this shutdown.

A debate arising, it was moved by the Hon. Mr. Wall:

That all words after Assembly be deleted and the following added:

Recognizes the hardship experienced by workers at Cameco’s McArthur River mine and Key Lake mill due to the temporary layoffs caused by falling uranium prices; and

Commends Cameco for being the words of United Steelworkers Local 8914 president Denis O’Hara, “a fair and compassionate employer” that has committed to reopening the two facilities and topping up the benefits to laid-off employees and encourages that approach by Cameco to continue; and

Encourages the Government of Saskatchewan to continue to deploy resources to assist workers and to work closely with the Government of Canada to develop markets for uranium sales around the world; and further

That this Assembly unequivocally supports the nuclear energy industry as a source of demand for Saskatchewan uranium that will keep Saskatchewan people working in the industry.

The debate continuing on the motion and the amendment, the question being put on the amendment, it was agreed to on the following recorded division:

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS / DÉPÔT DE PROJETS DE LOI

The following bills were introduced, read the first time, and ordered to be read a second time at the next sitting:

Les projets de loi suivants sont reçus, lus une première fois, et la deuxième lecture en est fixée à la prochaine séance:

Bill No. 94 — The Saskatchewan Advantage Grant for Education Savings (SAGES) Amendment Act, 2017

(Hon. Mr. Cox)

Bill No. 96 — The Choice of Court Agreements (Hague Convention Implementation) Act
Projet de loi n° 96 — Loi sur les accords d'élection de for (mise en œuvre de la Convention de La Haye)

(Hon. Mr. / L'hon. M. Morgan)

Bill No. 95 — The Miscellaneous Statutes Repeal and Amendment Act, 2017

(Hon. Mr. Morgan)

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Privilege)

Earlier today, the Opposition House Leader (Mr. McCall) gave notice of a question of privilege. The Opposition House Leader's argument is that the Minister of Education (Hon. Ms. Eyre) breached the privileges of this Assembly by intentionally using misleading and false statements to support a personal opinion. The Opposition House Leader states that by presenting misleading information the minister breached the trust of members who rely on information presented in the Assembly to perform their legislative duties.

I remind all honourable members that it is not the role of the Speaker to decide if a breach of privilege or contempt has been committed. This is a question that only the Assembly can decide. It is the Speaker's role to decide whether a prima facie case has been established. What that means is the Speaker is to judge whether there is sufficient evidence to merit setting aside the regular business of the Assembly to debate the matter. If the Speaker finds a prima facie case has been established, then the question is put to the Assembly in the form of the motion proposed as part of the Opposition House Leader's case.

At the centre of the Opposition House Leader's case is the minister's response to the Address-in-Reply to the Throne Speech made on November 1, 2017. In that speech the minister commented on a homework sheet brought home by her son and notes copied from the board. The minister then went on to provide her personal views and perceptions about a number of matters connected with Indigenous education.

The Opposition House Leader claims that the minister's personal views about the curriculum caused her to mislead the Assembly by presenting false information. In making his case, he cites what he perceives to be the minister's point of view on a number of subjects. First, I want to state that the presentation of personally held views, beliefs, and even perceptions are a fundamental part of debate. It is not up to the Speaker to decide if the views of members are supported by facts. It is through debate that members make each other accountable for what is said in this chamber. The question for the Speaker is whether there was a deliberate intent to mislead the Assembly.

In the past, Speakers have ruled that unless evidence can be produced that demonstrates knowing and deliberate deception of the Assembly there is no question of privilege. There is a very high threshold of proof when it comes to determine if a member has crossed the line between presenting the facts, as the member knows or perceives, to knowingly deceive the Assembly. The primary threshold of proof is the member's own admission of guilt or direct contradictory evidence.

The Opposition House Leader bases his case on media reports and social media to refute what the minister stated in debate. He has not provided direct evidence sufficient to demonstrate the intention of the minister. Whether or not the information presented was misleading is not for the Speaker to decide. The member has not convinced the Speaker that the minister set out to deliberately and knowingly mislead the Assembly. For this reason I find the member's case has not achieved the threshold of evidence needed for me to find a prima facie case of privilege.

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

The order of the day being called for question nos. 44 to 53, they were answered. (see Appendix A)

CONDOLENCE MOTIONS

Moved by the Hon. Mr. Wall, by leave of the Assembly:

That this Assembly records with sorrow and regret the passing of a former Member of this Assembly and expresses its grateful appreciation of the contribution he made to his community, his constituency, and to the province.

Gordon Gray Currie, who passed away on February 22, 2017 at the age of 93, was a Member of this Legislative Assembly from 1982 until 1987, representing the constituency of Regina Wascana for the Progressive Conservative Party. Mr. Currie served on Executive Council in several capacities including as the Minister of Education, Minister of Continuing Education, Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower, Minister of Science and Technology, and Minister of Telephones.

Mr. Currie was born in Semans, Saskatchewan. He attended Notre Dame College and received a Bachelor of Education degree at Mount Allison College in New Brunswick. He was also a lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy in World War II. Upon his return to Regina, he was hired at Balfour Technical School to teach history and promote sports. He continued his coaching career with the Balfour Redmen, the Regina Red Sox, and the Regina Rams. His contributions to sport have been formally recognized in a variety of ways. Currie Field, the home of the Regina Red Sox, was named in his honour. He was inducted into the Saskatchewan Sports Hall of Fame in 1978 and the Canadian Football Hall of Fame as a mentor in 2005. He became a member of the Order of Canada in 1979.

Mr. Currie is survived and sadly missed by his three sons, Bob, Doug, and Jim, and their families.

In recording its own deep sense of loss and bereavement, this Assembly expresses its most sincere sympathy to members of the bereaved family.

A debate arising and the question being put, it was agreed to.

Moved by the Hon. Mr. Wall, by leave of the Assembly:

That this Assembly records with sorrow and regret the passing of a former Member of this Assembly and expresses its grateful appreciation of the contribution he made to his community, his constituency, and to the province.

Jack Charles Klein, who passed away on June 8, 2017 at the age of 81, was a Member of this Legislative Assembly from 1982 until 1991, representing the constituencies of Regina North and Regina South for the Progressive Conservative Party. Mr. Klein served on Executive Council in several capacities including as the Minister of Tourism and Small Business, Minister of Urban Affairs, Minister of Trade and Investment, Minister of Consumer and Commercial Affairs, and Minister of Human Resources, Labour and Employment.

Mr. Klein was an enthusiastic businessman with vast professional experience. He purchased his first restaurant in 1957, he operated Sunset Amusement Park from 1964 to 1978, was a real estate broker from 1969 to 1980, and operated Leisure World from 1977 to 1982. After serving in the Legislative Assembly, Mr. Klein moved to Mesa, Arizona and operated an automotive lubricant shop. He retired in 1999 to Kelowna, British Columbia.

Mr. Klein is survived and sadly missed by his wife of 60 years, Shirley, and their five children, Mark, Cathy, Brad, Luke, and Michael, and their families.

In recording its own deep sense of loss and bereavement, this Assembly expresses its most sincere sympathy to members of the bereaved family.

A debate arising and the question being put, it was agreed to.

Moved by the Hon. Mr. Wall, by leave of the Assembly:

That this Assembly records with sorrow and regret the passing of a former Member of this Assembly and expresses its grateful appreciation of the contribution he made to his community, his constituency, and to the province.

Robert Wayne Mitchell, who passed away on November 18, 2016 at the age of 80, was a Member of this Legislative Assembly from 1986 until 1999, representing the constituency of Saskatoon Fairview for the New Democratic Party. Mr. Mitchell served on Executive Council in several capacities including as the Minister of Justice and Attorney General, Minister of Labour, Minister of Post-Secondary Education and Skills Training, and Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Mitchell was born in Preeceville. He graduated from the University of Saskatchewan with degrees in law and economics. Prior to becoming a Member of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. Mitchell served as director of legal services for the federal Department of Labour and the Department of Regional Economic Expansion in Ottawa and as a labour relations expert for the International Labour Organization of the United Nations in the Caribbean. On returning to Saskatchewan, Mr. Mitchell served as deputy minister for the provincial Department of Labour from 1974 to 1979 before co-founding the Mitchell-Ching law firm in Saskatoon. After leaving politics, Mr. Mitchell went on to work as head negotiator for the Federation of Saskatchewan Indian Nations and to chair the Saskatchewan Public Complaints Commission.

Mr. Mitchell is survived and sadly missed by his wife Sandra and their six daughters, Janet, Roberta, Stephanie, Shannon, Donna, and Alison, and their families.

In recording its own deep sense of loss and bereavement, this Assembly expresses its most sincere sympathy to members of the bereaved family.

A debate arising and the question being put, it was agreed to.

Moved by the Hon. Mr. Wall, by leave of the Assembly:

That this Assembly records with sorrow and regret the passing of a former Member of this Assembly and expresses its grateful appreciation of the contribution he made to his community, his constituency, and to the province.

Roger Parent, who passed away on November 29, 2016 at the age of 63, was a Member of this Legislative Assembly from 2011 until his passing. He represented the constituency of Saskatoon Meewasin for the Saskatchewan Party.

Mr. Parent held a certificate in mechanical engineering technology from the Saskatchewan Institute of Applied Science and Technology and a certificate in business administration from the University of Saskatchewan. Prior to becoming a Member of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. Parent was a business consultant that worked with a variety of organizations developing Aboriginal businesses around the province. He was also involved with a number of organizations, including the Saskatchewan Economic Development Association, the Saskatchewan Housing Corporation, and the Saskatoon Homelessness Initiatives Partnership.

Mr. Parent is survived and sadly missed by his wife Sheila and their four daughters, Shanaya, Melissa, Jennifer, and Rebecca, and their families.

In recording its own deep sense of loss and bereavement, this Assembly expresses its most sincere sympathy to members of the bereaved family.

A debate arising and the question being put, it was agreed to.

Moved by the Hon. Mr. Wall, by leave of the Assembly:

That this Assembly records with sorrow and regret the passing of a former Member of this Assembly and expresses its grateful appreciation of the contribution he made to his community, his constituency, and to the province.

Duane Weiman who passed away on September 4, 2015 at the age of 69, was a Member of this Legislative Assembly from 1982 until 1986, representing the constituency of Saskatoon Fairview for the Progressive Conservative Party. During his time as a Member of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. Weiman served as a Legislative Secretary to the Minister of Finance and to the Minister of Education.

Prior to being elected, Mr. Weiman was a teacher. After serving in the Legislative Assembly, Mr. Weiman returned to the Greater Saskatoon Catholic School Board as an educator and chaplain at Bishop James Mahoney and E.D. Feehan high schools. He was active in his parish and enjoyed traveling throughout Canada, the United States, Europe, and China.

Mr. Weiman is survived and sadly missed by his wife, Delores, and their two children, Kari and Paul, and their families.

In recording its own deep sense of loss and bereavement, this Assembly expresses its most sincere sympathy to members of the bereaved family.

A debate arising and the question being put, it was agreed to.

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

The order of the day being called for question no. 54, it was answered. (see Appendix A)

SEVENTY-FIVE MINUTE DEBATE

The order of the day being called for the following motion for a seventy-five minute debate, it was moved by Ms. Sproule:

That this Assembly acknowledges the importance and need for further transparency and accountability on the Global Transportation Hub considering that very serious mistakes were made that should have never happened, that the people of Saskatchewan are owed answers to questions around the Global Transportation Hub, that questions remain about issues and individuals surrounding the GTH that have been amplified by recent revelations; and further that it's unacceptable to the people of Saskatchewan that after all this time there are still more questions than answers when it comes to the GTH.

A debate arising and the period of seventy-five minutes having expired, pursuant to rule 25(5) the Deputy Speaker interrupted proceedings.

PRIVATE MEMBERS' MOTIONS

The order of the day being called for motion no. 1, it was moved by Mr. Moe:

SPEAKER TABLES REPORTS

The Speaker laid before the Assembly the following:

Saskatchewan Advocate for Children and Youth: Shhh...LISTEN!! We Have Something To Say! Youth Voices From The North special report on the youth suicide crisis in northern Saskatchewan.

(Sessional paper no. 66)

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Unparliamentary Language)

I am prepared to rule on the point of order raised yesterday by the Government House Leader (Hon. Mr. Brkich). He stated that during Question Period the Deputy Leader of the Opposition (Mr. Belanger) yelled “that’s a lie.” The Opposition House Leader (Mr. McCall) requested that there be a review of the tapes.

I have reviewed what was said on the record and listened to the audio of the proceedings in question. I did not find, nor did I hear the comments alleged to have been said by the Deputy Leader of the Opposition. Accordingly, it is impossible for me to rule on this matter. For this reason I find the point of order unsubstantiated.

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Deferred Ruling)

Earlier today the Opposition House Leader (Ms. Sarauer) raised a question of privilege under the provisions of rule 12 of The Rules and Procedures of the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan. I received the notice this morning, Tuesday, March 13, 2018 at 10:53 a.m. Upon receipt of this notice, in accordance with the rules, both House Leaders are aware of the details of the case and the proposed question of privilege.

It is the responsibility of the Speaker to determine if a prima facie case of privilege has been established. Contempt of the Assembly is a serious charge, which requires careful examination of the case and this Assembly's practices and precedents. The Minister has apologized to the Assembly and I will consider this apology in my decision. However, I have not had sufficient time to carefully consider all matters related to this question, so for this reason I shall defer my ruling.

(Hon. Mr. / L'hon. M. Morgan)

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Privilege)

Yesterday, March 13, 2018, the Opposition House Leader (Ms. Sarauer) raised a question of privilege concerning comments made by the Minister of Highways and Infrastructure (Hon. Mr. Marit) in this Assembly on December 7, 2017.

The case of the Opposition House Leader is that the Minister was aware of lawsuits against the Government of Saskatchewan resulting from land purchases for the Regina bypass project and the Global Transportation Hub; as well as details and specifics associated with the lawsuits. The Minister is quoted as stating in response to a question that there were no lawsuits against the Government of Saskatchewan. The Opposition House Leader's charge is that the Minister intentionally misled the Assembly and that constitutes contempt of the Legislative Assembly.

Subsequently, at the beginning of Routine Proceedings yesterday, the Minister addressed the charge by offering his apology to the Assembly for making an incorrect statement to the Assembly. The Minister went on to state (and I quote):

"...it never was or never is my intention to knowingly mislead any member of this House. I consider all my colleagues honourable members, and I assure you that I would never deliberately mislead this House in any way. I apologize unequivocally to all members of the Legislative Assembly."

I deferred ruling yesterday to carefully consider all matters related to the case including the Minister's apology. I am now prepared to address the case.

With the apology I don't believe there is any dispute over the facts of the matter. The question for the Speaker to decide is whether the apology, together with the explanation that there was no intention to knowingly mislead the Assembly, is sufficient to end the case.

In the section "Proceedings against members" found at page 277 of Erskine May Parliamentary Practice, 24th Edition, it states the following: "When a Member has made an acceptable apology for the offence, the critical motion has sometimes been withdrawn. In two instances, the House condemned the Member's conduct as a breach of its privileges, but resolved that in consequence of the full and ample apology [the Member] had offered to the House, or that having regard to his withdrawal of the expressions complained of, it would not proceed any further in the matter." Similarly, at page 267 of Maingot's Parliamentary Privilege in Canada, Second Edition, in the section "Where a member is the subject of a question of privilege" it is stated: "An apology by the offending Member will invariably close the matter without the necessity of putting the motion to a vote." These are standards that have been applied in this Assembly on numerous occasions in the past.

More recently, on June 2, 2016, in consideration of a question of privilege involving the leak of budget information, Speaker Tochor cited House of Commons precedent to rule that an apology is not always sufficient to end a case. In his view, the apology made with respect to the budget leak was not sufficient and he allowed the case to proceed.

It is my belief that members come to this place with honourable intentions. When a mistake is made the right thing to do is to apologize. There is no doubt that the consequence of a member's action is an important consideration in determining questions of privilege. There might well be instances when an ample and genuine apology is not sufficient but it is this Speaker's general belief that the willingness of a member to make amends should be an important consideration in deciding cases.

It is my decision that the Minister's apology is sufficient reason this case need not proceed.

PRAYERS

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Imputing Motives)

I have a statement about the line of questions asked by the Member for Saskatoon Centre (Mr. Forbes) during yesterday's Question Period. The questions raised the spectre of a connection between the private interests of a Minister, political donations, conflict of interest, and the motivation of cabinet with the possible sale of government real estate. "These are serious questions about the motivations of the Sask Party government's front bench" the member said, before going on to link that statement with a statement referring to the Minister of Central Services' (Hon. Mr. Cheveldayoff) personal stake in commercial real estate and the political donations he took from real estate companies.

Beauchesne's Parliamentary Rules and Forms, 6th edition, paragraph 484(3) states in part "... a member will not be permitted by the Speaker to ... impute to any member or members unworthy motives." To impute is to assign by inference. After reviewing the Hansard verbatim it is clear to me that the questions insinuated that the Minister and Cabinet might be motivated by personal interest and political donations. The House of Commons Procedure and Practice, 3rd edition, page 619, states the following: "Remarks which question the integrity, honesty and character are not in order." I want to point out what Speaker Hagel said in this Assembly about Question Period on May 27, 1998: "...it is never, ever appropriate that, engaging in political cut and thrust of debate in this Assembly, that members would draw into question the character of another member..."

The questions asked yesterday by the Member for Saskatoon Centre imputed unworthy motives on the part of the Minister and questioned the character of cabinet ministers to make honourable decisions. For this reason I rule the questions to be out of order. I repeat what I said yesterday, "This House is honourable. I expect you to have your questions with that frame in mind, please."

I now ask the Member from Saskatoon Centre to rise, withdraw, and apologize for his statements he made in Question Period yesterday.

Thereupon, the Member for Saskatoon Centre apologized and withdrew his remarks.

PRAYERS

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Members' Decorum)

Yesterday, right on the heels of my ruling, the Member for Estevan (Ms. Carr) made a statement that was inflammatory. It was not helpful. The statement is an example of what happens when members on both sides of this Chamber engage in demeaning rancour. A pattern has been developing and it is unworthy of this Assembly and is of considerable concern to me. The comments and the questions I ruled out of order yesterday are good examples of the negative spiral that can occur when members start impugning each other's character in this Chamber.

I ask members to be cognizant of the tone, manner, and intention of their remarks and to measure their language accordingly in this Assembly.

PRESENTING PETITIONS

Petitions of citizens of the province of Saskatchewan were presented and laid upon the Table by the following members: Kirsch, Wotherspoon, Beck, Forbes, and McCall.

READING AND RECEIVING PETITIONS

According to order and pursuant to rule 16(7), petitions from residents of the province of Saskatchewan, requesting the following action, were read and received:

- To stop the federal government from imposing a carbon tax on the province.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 17)
- To overhaul Saskatchewan campaign finance laws.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 18)
- To reverse cuts to education.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 20)
- To pass legislation for critical supports for victims of domestic violence.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 50)
- To immediately appoint a seniors' advocate.
(Addendum to sessional paper no. 119)

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The following bill was introduced, read the first time, and ordered to be read a second time at the next sitting:

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Unparliamentary Language)

On Thursday, April 19, 2018, the Government House Leader (Hon. Mr. Brkich) raised a point of order that the Member for Saskatoon Nutana (Ms. Sproule) had accused members of “deliberately making incorrect statements.” I have reviewed the record and will respond to the point of order.

In reaction to comments from across the floor the Member for Saskatoon Nutana did accuse some government members of deliberately making incorrect statements about her position on the Leap Manifesto. I think all members know that it is not unparliamentary to criticize statements made by members to be contrary to the facts but imputations of intentional falsehoods are not permissible. This can be found at paragraph 494 of Beauchesne’s Parliamentary Rules and Forms, 6th edition. Beauchesne also states that a statement made by a member respecting themselves and within their own personal knowledge must be accepted. So in this instance, I have some sympathy for the Member for Saskatoon Nutana.

During the Seventy-five Minute Debate, there were instances when members on both sides of the House hurled personal insults and accusations across the floor. While many of these comments were not reflected in the official records I want to remind members that yelling comments from your seat such as “That’s a lie” only escalates unparliamentary discourse. These provocative statements added to the downward spiral of unacceptable parliamentary debate, incited disorder and were not respectful. This spilled over into the debate on Bill 606. Therefore I do not think it is fair to single out one member. I caution all members that this behaviour will not and should not be tolerated in this Assembly.

As a final note, I think that members should reflect on our Code of Ethical Conduct and in particular the commitment to your colleagues that is “we owe loyalty to shared principles, respect for differences and fairness in political dealings.” It might take some work but I think all members should take heed of their own code of conduct and govern themselves accordingly.

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Deferred Ruling)

Earlier today the Opposition House Leader (Ms. Sarauer) raised a question of privilege under the provisions of rule 12 of The Rules and Procedures of the Legislative Assembly of Saskatchewan. I received the notice this morning, Tuesday, April 24, 2018 at 11:10 a.m. Upon receipt of this notice, in accordance with the rules, both House Leaders have been informed of the details of the case and the proposed question of privilege.

It is the responsibility of the Speaker to determine if a prima facie case of privilege has been established. Contempt of the Assembly is a serious charge, which requires careful examination of the case and this Assembly's practices and precedents. However, I have not had sufficient time to carefully consider all matters related to this question, so for this reason I shall defer my ruling.

WRITTEN QUESTIONS

The order of the day being called for question nos. 227, and 229 to 230, they were answered. (see Appendix A)

The order of the day being called for question no. 228, pursuant to rule 21(6), the question was converted and an order for return was issued. (see Appendix B)

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Withdrawal of privilege case on early release of a bill)

Yesterday, the Opposition House Leader (Ms. Sarauer) raised a question of privilege concerning the release of details related to Bill No.126 — The Energy Export Act before its introduction in the Assembly.

At the beginning of Routine Proceedings, the Minister of Energy and Resources (Hon. Ms. Eyre) apologized and provided an explanation to the Assembly about how a news release on the bill was released to the media in error. She assured the Assembly that steps will be taken to ensure such an error will not happen again.

Subsequently, the Opposition House Leader wrote the Speaker to indicate she would not put forward her question of privilege as a consequence of the minister's apology. This obviates the need for a Speaker's ruling. For reason of the minister's apology, and the formal withdrawal of the case, I consider the matter closed.

PRAYERS

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Question out of order)

I have a statement concerning a question asked on May 3, 2018, during Question Period by the Member for Saskatoon Nutana (Ms. Sproule).

At page 4190 of Hansard, the Member for Saskatoon Nutana asked the Minister of Finance (Hon. Ms. Harpauer) these questions:

“Doesn’t she think women can do math as well as men can? Will the Finance minister apologize for these comments?”

Pursuant to rule 20(2) of The Rules and Procedures of the Legislative Assembly, a question must be connected to the government. Upon review, I find the question is about the personal viewpoint of the minister and not connected to the government. My concern does not end there.

At page 624 of the House of Commons Procedure and Practice, 3rd edition 2017, it states that the Speaker takes into consideration the intention of the member speaking and the person to whom the words at issue were directed. I have to ask, what was the intention of this question?

Members know all too well, given many, many rulings from the Chair, some as recently as a few weeks ago, that remarks which question a member’s integrity, honesty, or character are out of order. The dictionary defines “character” as the moral qualities distinctive to an individual. Previously, I asked members to heed their own code of ethical conduct — to respect differences, and treat each other with fairness in political dealings.

In this instance the question is out of order because it was not related to the government. It was also meant to reflect personally on the minister, which is also out of order and troubling.

I ask the Member for Saskatoon Nutana to withdraw and apologize to the Assembly.

Thereupon, the Member for Saskatoon Nutana apologized and withdrew her remarks.

PRESENTING PETITIONS

Petitions of citizens of the province of Saskatchewan were presented and laid upon the Table by the following members: Hindley, Vermette, Wotherspoon, Beck, and Forbes.

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Documents tabled by ministers)

Yesterday, immediately after Question Period, the Opposition House Leader (Ms. Sarauer) raised a point of order pursuant to rule 52 requesting the tabling of documents referenced by the Deputy Premier (Hon. Mr. Wyant) in relation to policy development documents of previous legislative secretaries. I have reviewed the transcript on page 4348 of Hansard. The Deputy Premier in his comments referred to recommendations made by the previous legislative secretaries but he did not quote from specific documents. Therefore the point of order is not well taken and the minister is not required to table any documents.

PROROGATION SPEECH

10:05 a.m.

His Honour The Lieutenant Governor, having entered the Chamber, took his seat upon the Throne. His Honour was then pleased to deliver the following speech:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislative Assembly, people of Saskatchewan.

The second session of the twenty-eighth legislature presented a great time of change for the Legislative Assembly. We now have a new Premier, a new Leader of the Opposition, new members, and even a new Lieutenant Governor. But our goal remains the same: standing up for Saskatchewan.

Saskatchewan's population continues to grow, and a record 1,162,062 people now call Saskatchewan home. Our province's population consistently has increased every quarter for 49 consecutive quarters. My government is happy and proud to welcome so many new families to this great province.

In the spring, my government presented a budget which keeps Saskatchewan on track to balance in the next year. This represents keeping the promise my government made not to drive up the debt and force the next generation to bear these costs. My government has continued to remain firm in this commitment and is able to proudly say: we are still on track. Despite these difficult choices, this year my government made record investments in the people of Saskatchewan.

My government invested a record $5.8 billion in healthcare including:

- $2.8 million to fulfill our commitment to provide individualized funding for children with autism spectrum disorder;
- $700,000 to provide universal drug coverage for HIV medications and additional community-based supports; and
- $523,000 to create the universal newborn hearing screening program to provide babies born in Saskatchewan with a screening test to support early detection of hearing loss.

The creation of a single Saskatchewan health authority is expected to save between $10 and $20 million annually, and will enable greater coordination and consistency across the health care system.

Furthermore, my government is investing $3.2 billion in the Saskatchewan Health Authority while we prepare for the opening of two new hospitals in Saskatchewan: The Saskatchewan Hospital North Battleford and The Jim Pattison Children's Hospital in Saskatoon.

My government understands the importance of investing in our children and our future and we devoted $2.5 billion to the Ministry of Education to support our teachers, classrooms, early years childcare, and libraries. School divisions received $1.87 billion in operating funding, an increase of $30 million from the previous year. This investment supports the ability to hire an additional 400 teachers and education support staff. My government made a promise to restore education funding and we have kept that promise.

This year, my government showed our commitment to families by investing $76.9 million in childcare funding. The Canada-Saskatchewan Early Learning and Childcare Agreement was signed with the federal government to secure $41 million in funding for the next three years. Saskatchewan now has over 16,000 childcare spaces with support for an additional 2,500 spaces by 2020.

Finally, my government made historic investments in the people of Saskatchewan by allocating $1.38 billion for social services and assistance. Community based organizations and care givers received an additional $10.4 million this year to provide direct daily care to adults with intellectual disabilities and mental health challenges.

These investments show the commitment of my government to the people and families of Saskatchewan that we spend on the priorities that matter while staying on track to a balanced budget. My government has exercised financial restraint so that future generations will not bear the costs of an unsustainable debt load, while still delivering the services the people of Saskatchewan deserve.

My government also has introduced and passed legislation to help families, support our economy, grow our province and improve the quality of life in Saskatchewan. In total, my government passed 60 pieces of legislation including:

- Protecting the right to school choice by invoking the notwithstanding clause of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms and legislation to provide certainty to parents and students that government can continue funding students who attend Catholic separate schools regardless of their religious affiliation;
- Presenting the framework to allow the federal government's legalization of cannabis;
- Amending The Privacy Act for greater protection against the unauthorized electronic distribution of intimate images;
- Updating legislation to make consequences more severe for drivers who are impaired and who transport children;
- Introducing legislation to allow the establishment of ride sharing services in Saskatchewan communities;
- Developing an interpersonal violence leave of 10 unpaid days;
- Announcing a new provincial park in the Porcupine Hills area;
- Creating value-added agriculture incentives to improve investment attraction; and
- Updating animal protection enforcement.

These efforts are just a few of the many undertakings of my government to stand up for Saskatchewan and stay on track and make life better for its people and families. Members of the Legislative Assembly, it is my duty to discharge you from further attendance of the second session of the twenty-eighth legislature. In closing, I wish to thank all members of the Assembly for your hard work and the commitment you have shown to your duties in this Chamber and to your constituents.

The Hon. Ms. Wilson, Provincial Secretary, then said:

It is the will and pleasure of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor that this Legislative Assembly be prorogued until later today, the 24th day of October, 2018 at 2:00 p.m., and this Legislative Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

10:13 a.m.

To the Minister Responsible for Public Service Commission, how many reservists who qualified under The Saskatchewan Employment Act, sub division 11, section 2–5, reserve force service leave since 2007 were able to purchase their pension benefits while they were on leave?

Answer:

Since 2007, 10* employees of the Saskatchewan public service have requested and have been granted military reservist leave. All employees on military reservist leave, upon their return from their definite leave of absence, have the option to contribute to their pension plan for the period of their leave. Employees have up to 90 days from their return to work to apply. Of those ten individuals, four opted to contribute to their pension plan for the period of their leave, one declined the option, one individual did not return to the public service so was ineligible, and the decisions of four individuals are unconfirmed at this time.

*It was previously reported on October 27, 2017, that 11 individuals in the Saskatchewan public service had been granted military leave since 2007. A calculation error was made, and the correct number is 10 individuals were granted military leave since 2007.

Question no. 74 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister Responsible for Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission, in terms of complaints filed with the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission, (a) how many were dismissed in 2016, (b) how many were dismissed in 2017 (to date), (c) for each claim dismissed in 2016, what was the specific reason for each dismissed complaint, and (d) for each claim dismissed in 2017, what was the specific reason for each dismissed complaint?

Answer:

- (a) The Chief Commissioner dismissed 31 cases. The court dismissed one case.
- (b) The Chief Commissioner dismissed 55 cases.
- (c) The reasons for dismissal by the Chief Commissioner are outlined in extensive written reasons provided to the parties and are fact specific. The majority of dismissals fall into two categories:
  - The Chief Commissioner has concluded after reviewing the evidence obtained during the investigation that there is no reasonable prospect that a court would find the complaint to be substantiated on a balance of probabilities, and therefore the complaint is dismissed as being without merit (section 27.1(2)(b)).
  - The substance of the complaint has been appropriately dealt with pursuant to another Act or proceeding (section 27.1(2)(d)).
- (d) The reasons for dismissal by the Chief Commissioner are outlined in extensive written reasons provided to the parties and are fact specific. The majority of dismissals fall into two categories:

DECEMBER 6, 2017*Question no. 83 (Ms. Beck):

To the Minister of Education, what categories of educators and support positions as outlined in the ministry's education sector staffing profile are included in the ministry's calculations for student-to-teacher ratios provided in written question no. 19 tabled on November 22, 2017?

Answer:

All educator full-time equivalents (FTEs) employed on September 30 in provincial school divisions were used in the calculation of the student-teacher ratios. This includes FTEs assigned to regular classroom teaching, distance learning teaching, student support services teaching, English as an additional language teaching, counselling, teacher librarian, in-school administration, director, assistant director, superintendent, consultant, coordinator, psychologist, speech-language pathologists, and other educator positions. Although non-certificated educator positions such as education assistants and non-educator counsellors, speech-language pathologists, counsellors, and psychologists support students in classrooms and schools, these FTE positions were not included in the calculation of student-educator ratios.

Question no. 84 (Ms. Beck):

To the Minister of Education, how much funding was provided to qualified independent schools in 2012–13, 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

2013–14 — 645
2014–15 — 650
2015–16 — 668
2016–17 — 655
2017–18 — 682

Question no. 88 (Ms. Beck):

To the Minister of Education, how much funding was provided for home-schooling in 2012–13, 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

Answer:

Funding for home-schooled students is not calculated separately; these students are included in several enrolment driven components of the funding distribution model. These components include governance, administration, base instruction, supports for learning and instructional resources. Home-schooled students require different resources than students attending schools and are counted as half a full-time equivalent student in the model. The majority of funding provided through the model is unconditional and is not intended to prescribe the amount of funding allocated to school divisions for home-schooled students.

Question no. 89 (Ms. Beck):

To the Minister of Education, how many students were funded for home-schooling in 2012–13, 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

Answer:

2012–13 — 1981
2013–14 — 2096
2014–15 — 2151
2015–16 — 2225
2016–17 — 2341
2017–18 — 2467

Question no. 90 (Ms. Beck):

To the Minister of Education, for each school division, how much funding was specifically provided to divisions to fund new staffing positions in the schools that opened in the 2017–18 school year?

Answer:

Funding allocated to school divisions for pre-kindergarten to grade 12 education is allocated through a high level funding distribution model. Funding is not provided by student, by school, or for specific staffing positions. When new schools are opened, the schools, the school space, and the school enrolments are added to the funding distribution model and included in the calculation used to determine school division funding. The formulas are a mechanism to distribute available funding and each board of education makes individual staffing decisions within their allocated budget to meet local priorities.

Question no. 91 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister Responsible for the Workers' Compensation Board, how many applications were received by Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) for cost relief in each of the last fifteen years?

Answer:

As a regular process, all claims are reviewed by WCB operations staff for cost relief. There is not a process to determine how many requests come from employers for initial or additional review of cost relief. The WCB does receive appeals regarding cost relief, as below.

Appeals Department		Board Appeal Tribunal

Question no. 93 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister Responsible for the Workers' Compensation Board, what was the total cost of cost relief paid by WCB in each of the last fifteen years?

Answer:

When cost relief is provided this amount is not "paid" to the employer, rather the costs are removed from the employer's account therefore impacting the firm's experience rating.

Costs Relieved from Employer Fund, by year of decision
2002	$38,033,047

Question no. 94 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister Responsible for the Workers' Compensation Board, what was the total cost of cost relief paid by WCB in each of the last fifteen years to health regions?

Answer:

As indicated in the answer to question no. 93 — when cost relief is provided this amount is not "paid" to the employer, rather the costs are removed from the employer's account therefore impacting the firm's experience rating. In reporting costs relieved from health regions, the WCB considered the health regions as they are presently structured, as opposed to how they were structured in the past when individual facilities may have had their own WCB account, instead of being rolled into a particular health region.

Question no. 121 (Ms. Beck):

To the Minister of Social Services, what is the maximum child care subsidy available for families with one child, two children, and three children?

Answer:

The following table provides the maximum child care subsidy varied by location per month (Tier 1, 2 or 3), whether the child is attending a child care centre or family child care home, and whether full-time care or part-time care is needed. The maximum subsidy for 2 children in any category is times two of the subsidy amount and for 3 children it is times three of the subsidy amount, and so on.

	Tier 1*		Tier 2*		Tier 3*
	Full Time	Part Time	Full Time	Part Time	Full Time	Part Time
Child Care Centres
Infant	$570	$400	$485	$340	$410	$290

Question no. 132 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister of Health, for each former health region, what was the average emergency department wait time to physician initial assessment in January 2016, February 2016, March 2016, April 2016, May 2016, June 2016, July 2016, August 2016, September 2016, October 2016, November 2016, December 2016, January 2017, February 2017, March 2017, April 2017, May 2017, June 2017, July 2017, August 2017, September 2017, October 2017, November 2017, December 2017, January 2018, and February 2018?

Answer:

This information can be found on the Canadian Institute for Health Information website. The website address is: <https://www.cihi.ca/en>.

Question no. 133 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister of Health, in terms of the $158,500,000 federal mental health funding announced in January 2017, (a) what programs, organizations, third party institutions have received funding, and (b) for each response to (a), how much was provided; is this one-time funding; and does any of this funding reinstate funding that had been reduced since 2012?

Answer:

$400,000 of funding for the University of Regina's online therapy unit to expand internet-delivered cognitive behavioural therapy for adults with anxiety and depression and potentially for adults with substance use and misuse issues; includes the establishment of a clinical team to facilitate broader provincial delivery;

$200,000 to pilot an online module for parents of children with anxiety;

$150,000 to increase opportunities for physicians to receive targeted training in child and adolescent mental health;

$640,000 to establish multi-disciplinary teams and peer supports to provide client-centered services to individuals with serious and persistent mental illness with complex needs, and for whom traditional services have not been frequent or intensive enough;

$50,000 to expand suicide prevention efforts;

$140,000 to enhance addictions medicine services in Prince Albert and the north; and $100,000 to expand the Police and Crisis Team initiative (PACT) into the community of Prince Albert.

The federal government requires that the province negotiate the expenditure of future funds and that process is ongoing. The Ministry of Health has not reduced mental health funding and this is not a reinstatement.

Question no. 134 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Minister of Health, what is the total amount of money spent on recruitment and retention initiatives for all health care professionals combined for the fiscal year 2012–13, 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, and 2016–17?

MARCH 28, 2018

Question no. 182 (Ms. Sproule):

To the Minister of Justice and Attorney General, (a) for each claim received by the Public and Private Rights Board related to the expropriating authority of the Ministry of Highways and Infrastructure in 2013, what was the name of the complainant, (b) what was the legal land description(s) related to the claim, (c) what was the basis of the complaint, and (d) was a settlement mediated by the board?

Answer:

- (a) The Public and Private Rights Board (PPRB) has discretion in how it chooses to proceed following receipt of an application. The PPRB's primary role is dispute resolution. Where appropriate and agreed to by the parties, the PPRB engages the parties in a confidential mediation process with the goal of negotiating resolution. In 2013 there were no public hearings. As such, it would not be appropriate to release the names or related legal descriptions for the applicants in question.
- (b) The PPRB has discretion in how it chooses to proceed following receipt of an application. The PPRB's primary role is dispute resolution. Where appropriate and agreed to by the parties, the PPRB engages the parties in a confidential mediation process with the goal of negotiating resolution. In 2013 there were no public hearings. As such, it would not be appropriate to release the names or related legal descriptions for the applicants in question.

- (c) The PPRB publishes an annual report in accordance with s.6(3) of The Expropriation Procedure Act. Among other information, the reports provide details including the number of new applications received in relation to particular expropriating authorities, the number of applications carried over for particular authorities from the previous year, and the number of claims negotiated. In 2013, the PPRB received 13 new applications related to the Ministry of Highways and Infrastructure. Of the applications, 2 concerned route, situation, or design and 11 concerned compensation.
- (d) In 2013, 3 files related to the Ministry of Highways and Infrastructure were negotiated successfully, 9 negotiated unsuccessfully, and 0 withdrawn.

Question no. 183 (Ms. Sproule):

APRIL 24, 2018

Question no. 227 (Mr. Belanger):

To the Government, (a) in terms of fines and charges issued under The Traffic Safety Act for speeding, how many tickets were issued each year since 2006, (b) how much revenue has been generated each year since 2006, (c) what are the particulars of the revenue distribution, and (d) do any non-governmental entities receive any portion of the revenue and if so, which?

Answer:

The ministry does not track records specifically pertaining to the number and revenue for speeding tickets under The Traffic Safety Act. The below data is based on fiscal year and includes all tickets and revenues collected. Revenue is not based on when the ticket was issued; rather it is based on when the fine is collected. For example, the revenue in 2017–18 relates to tickets issued in any year 2017–18 and prior.

(a)/(b)/(c)

Fiscal Year	Number of Tickets Issued	Paid to GRF: Fine Revenue	Paid to GRF: 25% Municipal Holdback	Paid to GRF: Late Payment Fee

(d) No non-governmental entities receive any portion of the revenue.

Question no. 228 (order for return was issued):

See Appendix B — Returns

Question no. 229 (Ms. Sproule):

To the Minister Responsible for the Saskatchewan Power Corporation, in written question no. 220, I requested the total cost of the Boundary dam carbon capture project including retrofit costs and received SaskPower's "capital cost" only, what is the total cost of the project, including federal contributions, OM&A costs, and every other cost that makes up the total project cost?

Answer:

The capital cost provided in written question no. 220 is what is considered to be the total cost of the project including all retrofit costs. Operating, maintenance and administration costs are not considered to be part of the total project cost but are considered to be annual operating costs required to operate the facility. Operating costs are viewed on an annual basis and are not accumulated as part of the project cost. The annual OM&A costs were provided in response to written question nos. 109, 225, and 226.

Question no. 230 (Mr. Wotherspoon):

To the Minister of Social Services, (a) in terms of the provincial Social Services appeal board and the regional appeal committees, what are the particulars of the appointment process, (b) what qualifications and/or experience is required for members, (c) what training is provided on an ongoing basis for members, (d) are there time limits for board members, (e) is the board a member of the Saskatchewan Administrative Tribunals Association, (f) how are potential appointees identified (i.e. is there consultation with stakeholders for recommendations), (g) who is responsible for making appointment recommendations and/or providing a list of potential appointees and what is the vetting process, (h) are social assistance recipients provided with information regarding the appeal process and a list of advocates available to assist them with appeals, (i) what steps has the ministry taken to ensure that advocates who can assist with appeals are available, (j) what mechanisms are in place to provide for accountability and transparency of board decisions, and (k) are the board's written decisions available for review?

Answer:

- (a) The Minister of Social Services appoints members of the Social Services appeal board and regional appeal committees through a minister's order.
- (b) There is no required educational or professional criteria for appeal board members.
- (c) The ministry provides orientation and meets regularly with board members to review regulation changes and policy items.
- (d) There are no time limits for board members.
- (e) No, it is not a member of the Saskatchewan Administrative Tribunals Association.
- (f) Appointees either self-identify their interest in serving, or are identified by members of their community.
- (g) The Ministry of Social Services is responsible.
- (h) Information on the appeal process is provided to clients and is available on the government's website. Anyone can take on the role of an advocate (not required to be a paid position). Clients are advised that they can bring someone to the hearing (family member, friend) to act as an advocate in the letter informing them of their appeal date. A list of community advocates can be provided to a client from their income assistance worker or assured income specialist if requested.
- (i) Anyone can act as an advocate. The ministry notifies every appellant that they can bring someone with them to the appeal hearing.
- (j) Board decisions are provided in writing to both parties. The decisions include the reason for the appeal, the applicable regulatory and policy references, background of the case, and the considerations taken into account by the board.
- (k) Decisions are provided to the client. The Social Services appeal board annual report is also publically available through the ministry's website.

APRIL 25, 2018

Question nos. 231 to 232 (orders for return were issued):

See Appendix B — Returns

Question no. 233 (Ms. Chartier):

To the Minister of Health, what was the average wait for a patient for admission to Saskatchewan Hospital North Battleford in 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

Answer:

This information is not available. Saskatchewan Hospital North Battleford is unlike the other mental health centres in the province. Admissions come from a number of sources that do not occur in psychiatric units of other hospitals. These include forensic assessments, long term detention orders, and patients under a Saskatchewan review board disposition.

Question nos. 234 to 235 (orders for return were issued):

Question no. 239 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Government, (a) in terms of the federal government's Canada Social Transfer under the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act, how were these funds allocated each fiscal year since 2006–07, and (b) how is the amount provided to each dedicated program determined?

Answer:

The Canada Social Transfer (CST) is a unconditional federal block transfer to provinces and territories in support of post-secondary education, children's programs, and social programs. The CST funding provided to provinces and territories is calculated on an equal per capita cash basis. As CST funding is unconditional, there is no explicit dedication or allocation of the funding to specific programming. CST revenues are received into the general revenue fund and allocated through the budget process to priority areas.

Question no. 268 (Ms. Sarauer):

To the Minister of Justice and Attorney General, (a) in terms of the Family Matters program, how many inquiries were made to Family Matters each year since 2016, (b) how many individuals received mediation each year since 2016, (c) how many individuals received legal advice each year since 2016, (d) what were other possible outcomes of calls received, and (e) for each service offered, what is the average wait time for someone to access services through Family Matters each year since 2016?

Answer:

(a) Total inquiries:

November 2014–March 31, 2016 — 795

April 1, 2016–March 31, 2017 — 1,813

April 1, 2017–March 31, 2018 — 2,484

(b) Mediation (problem solving sessions): Family Matters does not offer mediation. The program offers a free 3-hour problem solving session where parties are able to discuss their name issue(s)/concern(s) in the presence of a third-party. There were 97 sessions in 2016/17 and 93 sessions in 2017/18.

(c) Referrals for legal advice: Family Matters does not provide legal advice. The program does provide legal information and legal resources for individuals who are looking for legal assistance. One of the main referrals that Family Matters makes for individuals to access legal information is to the family law information centre. This office is maintained by a lawyer with family law training. There were 664 people referred in 2016/17 and 856 people referred in 2017/18.

(d) Possible outcomes: The following is a list of the five (5) most common topics/resources that Family Matters provides information (following the family law information centre):

Self-help kits (total sent as of March 31, 2018 — 349)

Property division workbook and resources (total sent as of March 31, 2018 — 262)

Parenting planning workbook and resources (total sent as of March 31, 2018 — 327)

Parenting after separate and divorce schedule (not separately tracked)

Mediation resources (total sent as of March 31, 2018 — 231)

(e) Average wait time: If individuals want to attend a problem solving session, wait time is typically 3–4 weeks from intake to completion. If individuals require information or resources, wait time is typically 24 hours or less.

Question no. 269 (Ms. Sarauer):

To the Minister of Justice and Attorney General, what is the status of the fine option program redesign request for proposal?

Answer:

CTR = Community Training Residence

Question no. 279 (Ms. Sarauer):

To the Minister of Corrections and Policing, (a) what is the percentage of inmates who have a diagnosed mental illness, and (b) of those inmates diagnosed with a mental illness, how many suffer from an addiction?

Answer:

Corrections does not have an electronic or automated tracking system that details the number of offenders who have both a mental illness and a substance abuse disorder. In 2015, Corrections undertook collecting a one-day static sample (a snapshot) of the mental health of the custody population. When completing the snapshot, collection did not include both mental illnesses and addictions — the snapshot was done in an attempt to keep the question straightforward and the answer as accurate as possible. Because of the lack of an automated system, information collection was done manually by nursing staff by reviewing paper files (which was a highly labour intensive and time consuming undertaking). This undertaking is not easily replicated. Given the mandate and first priority for nurses is to provide direct services to offenders the response to the written question is based on the 2015 mental health snapshot data.

Mental health:

Based on the 2015 one-day snapshot of the mental health of the custody population:

- 17.6% of adults in custody had been diagnosed by a health professional with a mental illness or mental health problem; 5.7% of the custody population had a diagnosis of a severe mental illness (schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, or major depression).
- 18.8% of the diagnosed adults in custody had three or more diagnoses, not including any substance use disorder, indicating a high proportion of complex mental health problems.

Addictions-based information:

Based on standardized risk assessments completed on offenders at the time of intake:

- 73% of sentenced male inmates reported frequent abuse of drugs or alcohol resulting in serious problems, and
- 89% of sentenced female inmates reported negative impact of substance abuse in two or more areas of their lives.

Question no. 280 (Ms. Sarauer):

To the Minister of Corrections and Policing, (a) in terms of the Battlefords community correctional centre, when is it scheduled to be closed, (b) where will the inmates be placed once it is closed, and (c) what are the primary residences of the current Battleford closed correctional facility inmates?

Answer:

In terms of the Battlefords community correctional centre:

- (a) it has a scheduled closure date set for September 1, 2018.
- (b) remaining inmates will be transferred to other reduced custody facilities by August 31, 2018.
- (c) 35% of the facility's population primary residency is from Battlefords with the remaining 65% located between North Battleford and Lloydminster/Onion Lake area.

Question no. 281 (Ms. Sarauer):

To the Minister of Corrections and Policing, (a) in terms of the North Battleford Youth Centre, when is it scheduled to be closed, (b) where will the inmates be placed once it is closed, and (c) what are the primary residences of the current Battleford closed correctional facility inmates?

Answer:

In terms of the North Battleford Youth Centre:

- (a) it has a scheduled closure date set for September 1, 2018.
- (b) remaining youth will be transferred to other young offender facilities by August 31, 2018 — home location will guide placement.
- (c) the facility's population is showing primary residency in the following communities: Onion Lake, Montreal Lake, North Battleford, Prince Albert, Sandy Bay, Clearwater First Nation, Dillon, Denare Beach, La Ronge, Stanley Mission, Red Pheasant First Nation, Spiritwood, Mosquito First Nation, and Sputinow.

Question no. 282 (Ms. Chartier):

To the Minister of Health, how many qualified palliative care physician FTEs were working in 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

Answer:

The ministry does not have information on the number of physicians with additional training in palliative care. Over the last five years, the number of physicians billing for this specific service is as follows:

- 2013–14: 104 physicians
- 2014–15: 113 physicians
- 2015–16: 142 physicians
- 2016–17: 153 physicians
- 2017–18: 219 physicians

Question no. 283 (Ms. Chartier):

To the Minister of Health, for each location that exists, how many acute palliative care beds were there in 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

Answer:

Hospital palliative services can, and are, offered to patients as soon as a palliative diagnosis is indicated regardless of the “type of bed” the patient happens to be occupying at their time of need. Palliative care services are provided in designated palliative care beds, on inpatient units across the province, in designated hospices, and/or in many alternate level of care beds in health centers or integrated facilities which may not be hospitals. On a typical day, Saskatchewan hospitals cared for 171 palliative care patients.

Question no. 284 (Ms. Chartier):

To the Minister of Health, for each location that exists, how many hospice beds were there in 2013–14, 2014–15, 2015–16, 2016–17, and 2017–18?

Answer:

- 2013–14:10 beds (Grace Hospice at William Booth long-term care)
- 2014–15:10 beds (Grace Hospice at William Booth long-term care)
- 2015–16:12 beds (Grace Hospice at William Booth long-term care, Sanctum)
- 2016–17:12 beds (Grace Hospice at William Booth long-term care, Sanctum)

Question no. 287 (Ms. Sproule):

To the Government, (a) in terms of ministries that have contracts with the Canadian Public Safety Operations Organization (CanOps), what was the value of the contract, (b) what are the deliverables of the contract, and (c) what is the term of the contract?

Answer:

- (a) The contract is currently valued at $9,002,750 annually with anticipated reductions in the amount owed to CanOps based on their collection of alternate revenue related to dispatching services (estimated at $1,300,000). One-time payments in the contract are for transition costs of $250,000 and a prepayment of $2,175,688 to ensure CanOps has sufficient funds to cover costs, such as salaries, as payments under the contract are made after the end of each applicable month. The prepayment will be repaid to the ministry under the terms of the agreement.
- (b) The deliverables of the contract are to operate the Prince Albert public safety answering point that handles 911 services in Saskatchewan outside of the cities of Saskatoon and Regina.
- (c) The term of the contract is 10 years with an option to renew for one additional term of five years.

Question no. 311 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Government, for each year since 1980, how many times did the Saskatchewan Human Rights Tribunal take the case of a person who experienced discrimination on the basis of their disability to the courts?

Answer:

Prior to 2011, the only access to the courts was through an application by a party for a judicial review of a Saskatchewan Human Rights Tribunal decision. Since the Court of Queen's Bench started acting as a deciding body in 2011:

- The commission has only litigated three cases, none of which were for discrimination on the basis of disability.
- The commission has referred 58 cases of alleged discrimination on the basis of disability to the Court of Queen's Bench. Almost all matters were resolved by directed mediation or during the Queen's Bench pre-hearing process. Only a very small number of matters proceed to a hearing.

Question no. 312 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Government, when was the last time the government reviewed the targets for hiring people with disabilities in executive government and Crown corporations?

Answer:

The Government of Saskatchewan's (GoS) goals for diversity group representation are based on goals identified by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission (SHRC). These goals are based on the representative population of the province. The GoS reviews the SHRC goals annually to determine if they have changed. In 2014–15, the representation goal for persons with a disability was 9.7% and the goal was adjusted by the SHRC in 2015–16 to 12.4%. CIC and the subsidiary Crown corporations compile demographics information annually and report with reference to targets set by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission.

Question no. 313 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Government, what person or office sets the targets for hiring people with disabilities in executive government and Crown corporations?

Answer:

The Government of Saskatchewan's (GoS) goals for diversity group representation are based on goals identified by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission (SHRC). The SHRC sets goals for diversity group representation, including goals for persons with a disability. The GoS is committed to these goals and is working toward a representative workforce based on these numbers. CIC and the subsidiary Crown corporations use targets set by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission to guide hiring and conduct demographics measurement.

Question no. 314 (Mr. Forbes):

To the Government, how does the government set the targets for hiring people with disabilities in executive government and Crown corporations?

Answer:

The SHRC sets goals for diversity group representation, including goals for persons with a disability. The GoS is committed to these goals and is working toward a representative workforce based on these numbers. CIC and the subsidiary Crown corporations use targets set by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission to guide hiring and conduct demographics measurement.
